

NEW: Homework Carts at Kent County Public Library!

Need some glue? Looking for colored pencils? If you're doing your homework at Kent County Public Library, you're in luck!

Thanks to the 2017 LSTA Innovations Grant from the Maryland State Department of Education, KCPL has been able to create Homework Carts for all three library locations. The carts will be available after school starting at 2:30pm and are stocked with a variety of materials and school supplies that can be used by students working on homework assignments or projects.

Additionally, in the near future, Chromebooks will be added to the Homework Carts so students can access online tutors via Brainfuse HelpNow, take practice exams or search for scholarships through the Testing & Education Reference Center, complete research, and work on other school assignments. The purchase of the Chromebooks will be made possible through a grant from the Maryland State Library.

For more information about Kent County Public Library, including the days and hours of operation for all three locations, visit kentcountylibrary.org. If you have questions about the Homework Carts or other resources, please call 410.778.3636.